

The write stuff for cosy relaxation: Beguiling 'book nooks' around the world, from ski chalets to castle hotels (and top tips for designing your own)

By Ailbhe Macmahon For Mail Online | March 23, 2023

Here's a novel idea - build your own book nook.

And for inspiration here we present an array of cosy alcoves designed specifically for laid-back afternoons of page-turning and tea sipping, tucked inside everything from grand London townhouses to stylish New York City office blocks.

RIGHT: You can take in spellbinding views of San Francisco from this reading nook, which is built in a private apartment in the city's St Regis Residences complex. It was designed by Californian firm Jay Jeffers.

<https://www.dailymail.co.uk/travel/article-11648995/Cosy-book-nooks-bookworms-London-New-York-tips-designing-own.html>